

Welcome Chaperones

We are so glad that you have decided to come to the Imperial Centre for Arts & Sciences. During field trips all teachers and adults are considered chaperones.

- Chaperones must stay with their group at all times.
- Student behavior and supervision are the responsibility of the teacher and chaperones at all times.
- Please report any incident involving students or chaperones during a field trip immediately.
- We love having adults who actively participate with their children during their visit, but remember the students come first.
- Planetarium Line Up:
 - Please make a single file line (adults too) for easy counting.
 - One adult at the front and one in the back.
 - Other adults should spread out evenly throughout the line with the children.
 - Those at the front of the line will be seated at the back of the theatre.
 - Due to limited seating, teachers and students have first priority admission into our planetarium; additional visitors may be seated as availability is possible.
- To help all stay focused, please limit your cell phone usage.

We hope your trip is fun and full of learning! Enjoy your visit.

Welcome Chaperones

We are so glad that you have decided to come to the Imperial Centre for Arts & Sciences. During field trips all teachers and adults are considered chaperones.

- Chaperones must stay with their group at all times.
- Student behavior and supervision are the responsibility of the teacher and chaperones at all times.
- Please report any incident involving students or chaperones during a field trip immediately.
- We love having adults who actively participate with their children during their visit, but remember the students come first.
- Planetarium Line Up:
 - Please make a single file line (adults too) for easy counting.
 - One adult at the front and one in the back.
 - Other adults should spread out evenly throughout the line with the children.
 - Those at the front of the line will be seated at the back of the theatre.
 - Due to limited seating, teachers and students have first priority admission into our planetarium; additional visitors may be seated as availability is possible.
- To help all stay focused, please limit your cell phone usage.

We hope your trip is fun and full of learning! Enjoy your visit.

